

HERSTORY SUBMISSION

Hey Sistah Queen!

Our platform, Cherish Queens, is all about celebrating the accomplishments of "everyday" women of color. We see you are doing great things yourself and leaving your own unique karma footprint in the world. We would love to consider you for a feature on our website to share your victories! If you don't mind being transparent about your journey and giving words of wisdom to our community, please do the following:

1. Provide a brief personal bio. Good items to include would be occupation, educational background, business(es), organizations, credentials, family life, hobbies & interests etc.
2. How did you earn your crown and become the woman you are today? Who better to tell your story besides YOU? Let us know any challenges you faced and how you overcame those obstacles. What did you learn from it? How did it prepare you for greatness? (2 pages max)
3. Give us the W.O.W! Answer these golden questions as words of wisdom so the dynasty can get to know you even better.
  - a. What does self-love mean to you?
  - b. Do you feel like you have found your purpose and if so, when did you discover it?
  - c. If you could tell your princess-self (younger you) one piece of advice, what would it be?
  - d. When you hear the word 'conquered', how does that resonate with you and your life?
  - e. Give an inspiring message to other women on their journey to becoming a better version of themselves.
4. Submit your responses here along with 1-3 professional headshots*. Show us that gorgeous face of yours! We always love to give credit where credit is due, so don't forget to tell us the photographer / company name (if applicable).

That's it! We want to thank you for being open and allowing us to amplify your story across communities. From this, we hope that women are empowered through your journey to conquer their own, and then inspire others to do the same.

With Love,
Sade & Shontell
